

Dr. Adrienne Rodgers graduated from The Ohio State University in 1997 with her doctorate of veterinary medicine. She has worked in small animal medicine for 26 years. She has been employed at AWSOM Wellness Center for 5 years and has treated thousands of our shelter animals and injured strays alongside her full schedule of owned patients. She enjoys spending time with her family and two dogs and 4 cats.